COMPARE YOUR BUSINESSES. OVERSEE YOUR ENTERPRISE.

Tracking and monitoring the performance of all your locations can be a challenge – especially if your data's inconsistent. You need insight to help make informed decisions for every business in your enterprise, without the demands on your time to do so. How do you give each of your locations the attention they need, in a way that's scalable?

Avero's Group Analytics tool standardizes your data across all your locations, and lets you see exactly how each business is performing – on its own, or comparatively. You can also quickly drill down to businesses, departments, job classes or individual employees at each location to see the full impact of your decisions.

“Avero's Group Reporting is crucial for running my operations. I love having the ability to see global item sales for each of my businesses in a matter of seconds without having to run multiple reports.”
